

1924 - THE PHILADELPHIA CLASSICAL SOCIETY - 2010

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Warmest greetings from the officers of your PCS! By now all of you in the teaching profession are back into the thick of things. Your inspired teaching, every year, has kept new generations of students excited to love, explore, and find expression in, the Classics. Hopefully, the summer has refreshed and renewed you through rest, reading, travel, and whatever you chose to pursue.

We are pleased to announce that our annual Fall Meeting will be held on Saturday, November 14 at the Baldwin School. For your convenience, here are the key PCS dates for this year. Please note that the Spring banquet will be held in March, rather than April, this year, because of scheduling constraints at Drexelbrook.

Saturday, November 14, 2009	Fall Professional Day (Baldwin)
January 18-23, 2010 (revised)	PCS Latin week
Saturday, January 23, 2010 (revised)	Competition Judging (Baldwin)
Saturday, March 13, 2010	Awards Luncheon (Drexelbrook)

Our slate of excellent speakers on Fall Professional Day (Saturday, November 14) will cover a wide range of interests and intellectual stimulation. Our luncheon speaker will be Dr. Henry Bender, who will be speaking on "Rome Today: New Excavations." Among other topics, we will have a panel on the introduction of Chinese and its implications for the Classics, and an update on AP Latin.

Don't forget, also, our annual Latin Week activities in February and the awards luncheon in March. Last year, we had something of a recent record in attendance (over 400!) and we want to keep the classical wave cresting!

Autumn, 2009

Ed Sacks, President

P.S. As you know, we have kept our dues steady for a number of years, but, due to rising costs, we have increased our annual dues by $5 per year.
